Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing today to apply for the position of Data Science Internship. As an inspired Data Science student, I have experience with working with small data sets using Pandas/Numpy and large datasets using Dask. I am confident that I would be contributing to the data science team.

I look forward to meeting with you to further discuss how my skills and expertises would match the needs for this position. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Junjie Li
